

Fittoken represents the cryptocurrency of the world's first tokenized gym in the world.

A token that helps you to train better, with tokenomic model to be used both inside (SlowFit and Resistance Institute) and outside the outside the company, via DeFi services.

Now available at Pancakeswap.

Who is the Fittoken for?

- Slow Training and Resistance customers.
They will use it as an incentive to improve their training and access to exclusive products.
- Trainers
They will receive incentives based on individual and collective results.
- Crypto users
They will obtain incentives through staking and farming, providing liquidity.

How and where is the Fit token used?

- Available on all machines and websites.
Every time you train or take an online course you will receive Fit tokens.
- Available at Pancakeswap
This is the world's largest liquidity pool in the Binance Smart Chain.
- Available on fittoken.io and other websites.
You will be able to access DeFi services from project's website.

Circular economies, the key to incentivize the user and for the token to absorb more and more value.

We design the Fittoken to be highly useful inside and outside the company, with a powerful incentive system focused on 6 months for customers and up to 10 years for all players in the ecosystem.
